Historical Relationships of Western Religions

Old Testament Religion 1400 BC-AD 70

The dates are approximate since events such as the origination of Roman Catholicism from catholic Christianity, Eastern Orthodoxy's break from the Western Church, and the move away from the Roman Church by the Reformation churches were gradual and/or consisted of multiple events. Transitional Judaism divided into five major sects: Sadducees, Pharisees, Samaritans, Zealots, and Essenes. The historical relationships of the four main branches of the Protestant Reformation to Liberal, Evangelical, Fundamentalist, and Pentecostal-Charismatic Protestantism is too complex to portray in this chart. The Nation of Islam, at its origin, had only nominal ties to historic Islam.
